International Business Forum

Third International Conference on Financing for Development

The Forum for today's business leaders investing in emerging markets and developing economies

Hilton Hotel, Addis Ababa, Ethiopia
14 July 2015

In July 2015, 193 member countries of the United Nations will establish a new financing framework to support sustainable development for the next 15 years. Business is a driving force of social and economic growth given their contributions to employment and productivity. The most progressive business leaders advocate a strategy which proactively and effectively integrates a profitable business model with strategies for inclusive and sustainable operations and practices.

Given current growth predictions, emerging markets and developing countries hold significant promise for private and institutional investors who are searching for a means to diversify their portfolio and explore new opportunities that generate higher yields in a low global interest rate environment.

The International Business Forum will provide an opportunity for business and investors to:

- Influence the global dialogue to ensure an enabling environment for business;
- Underscore the role and success of the private sector in delivering development solutions;
- Demonstrate the private sector's ability to scale and accelerate progress given their creativity, capacity for innovation, technical and management skills and financial resources;
- Announce new concrete initiatives and forms of partnership within a global platform; and
- Network with Heads of State and other senior government officials, business executives and other high-level stakeholders.

This one-day Forum will be held on 14th July followed by a high-level, invitation-only dinner with attending Heads of State on 15th July. Participants may also have the opportunity to participate in the official sessions of the Conference on Financing for Development which is being held from 13th – 16th July 2015.
